

SUMMARY

The theme: "The Military conflicts: theoretic and methodological approaches and the methods of their resolution".

The author of the paper is Bondarenko.P.V.

Scientific adviser: Vartumyan A.A., doctor of political science, professor of conflict resolution studies, public relations and journalism department.

Organization: The Institute of International Relationships; the conflict resolution studies, public relations and journalism department; Pyatigorsk State Linguistic University.

The relevance of the research work is caused by the fact that the modern conflicts became one of the leading reasons for international instability. The main means for the state to state dispute resolutions still remains the military force. The problem of different military conflicts can have an impact on our society but they can't stop its development - nor social nor scientific. That's why it's really very important to investigate the essence and the dynamics of the military conflict as well as the ways and opportunities of its prevention and effectiveness of the methods of control over it.

The purpose is to reveal the factors, conditions and mechanisms of the military conflicts resolution, to analyse the theoretic and methodological approaches to this problem.

The research goals are:

- a reconstruction of the structure of the military conflict scenery;
- an analysis of the modern military conflicts and their peculiarities;
- an investigation of the techniques of the military conflict resolution;
- a description of the peculiarities of the military conflicts and the ways of their resolution.

The theoretical and the practical work significance is defined by the fact that the conclusions done in the process of the research give basis for further examination of the military conflict phenomenon and allow to outline the common problems which can be a starting point of the further researches in this area.

The structure of work: an introduction, 2 chapters with 2 clauses in each, the conclusion and references with 67 sources. The total volume of the research work is 62 pages.