

ANNOTATION

Subject matter of the dissertation: «Military and patriotic upbringing of youth in the process of realization of additional educational programs in «Orlenok»

Author of the master's dissertation: 4-year student, direction of training «Organization of work with youth» Dishekov Muhamed Zamirovich

Scientific supervisor of the master's dissertation: candidate of pedagogy science, assistant professor of creative and innovational management and law pulpit, Davidova Elena Vladislavna, Pyatigorsk State University.

Customer organization: Federal State budget Educational Establishment of Higher Education « Pyatigorsk State University»

Objective: based on synthesis of theory and practice of work organization for military and patriotic upbringing of youth in All-Russian child center, to develop a program of additional education for its following realization.

Results of the research: The research's results and its innovation: during the research the scientific – methodological resource on military and patriotic upbringing in post- soviet Russia was analyzed. The role and place of additional educational programs in the system of military and patriotic upbringing of youth was studied, regulations that regulate additional education activities, taking into the consideration the requirements in young men preparation to military service was found and analyzed, basic areas of tutor's work in military and patriotic upbringing in additional education establishment was offered.

Theoretical and practical significance of the research The theoretical value consists of materials, that helps to expand and to deepen the theoretical knowledge in planning work with youth in the field of military and patriotic upbringing. The materials, by which content, methods, type's military and patriotic upbringing of growing generation, which in common reflected in developed military and patriotic upbringing, was identified, justified and tested. The materials of this qualification work can be used in the upbringing work of the additional education establishments, in methodological textbooks for tutors, organizers of work with youth and for student's preparation for All-Russian Child center intership.