

Summary

Subject matter: Development of the system of social security of the population of Karachai-Circusia Republic.

Author: Adzinova Bella Aslanovna.

Supervisor of studies: X.-M.Yu. Eldarkhanov, doctor of science (economics), professor, academician, chair of creative and innovative management and law.

Customer organization:

Ministry of work and social development of Karachai-Circussia Republic

Topicality of the research:

Social security of population is an essential element of the functioning of any modern state. However in every society there is a certain part of the population that has no property of its own and is unable to work owing to some reasons: illness, disablement, old age or the age that doesn't permit a person to enter the sphere of industrial relations (children), the results of ecological, economic, national, political and military conflicts, natural disasters, visible demographic changes, etc. These categories of people will not simply survive without the protection and social security from the state.

Objective of the research:

- to examine the state of the system of social security of the population of KCR;
- to verify the essence of social security;
- to determine the main tendencies and directions of its development and regulation;
- to analyze the main problems related to the social security of the population;
- to offer concrete proposals on the improvement of the system of social security.

Tasks of the research:

- to reveal the essence of social security and highlight its main types and directions;
- to study the main organizational and legal forms and normative-legal basis of the state policy in the sphere of social security of the population;
- to examine the organizational structure of the state organs in charge of the social security of the population of KCR;
- to identify the main problems in this sphere;

- to analyze the key measures on the development of social security of the population;

-to offer practical ways of the improvement of the system of social security of the population of KCR.

Theoretical and practical significance of the research: is that its results can be used in the work of the organs of public and municipal power of the RF.

Results of the research: a detailed analysis of the problems of social security of the population of KCR.

Recommendations:

-The social security system should be children-oriented for them to enjoy the equal opportunities with the well-provided sections of the population;

-The social security of the able-bodied population should guarantee the balance up rights, responsibilities and interest of the citizens;

-For the disabled – the accent should be made on the support of the suitable level of life of this category.