

SUMMARY

Subject matter: The role of the pension system in the provision of the state's socio-economic security (on the materials of the Pension Fund Administration of the RF with Iraphsk district of the Republic of North Ossetia – Alania).

Author: Budaeva M.R.

Supervisor of studies: Kilinkarova S.G., candidate of economics, professor, chair of economics, management and finance.

Customer organization: PFA of the RF with Iraphsk district of the Republic of North Ossetia–Alania.

Topicality of the research. The problems of the provision of the state's economic security are topical in modern Russia. An important role in this respect belongs to the national pension system. The socio-economic security is closely interconnected with the operation of the pension system which along with the other elements of the principles of social justice and must be directed to provide a decent standard of life. At the same time Russia's current' pension system has accumulated quite a lot of problems relating to the demographic, social, financial and economic sphere. Their solution is an urgent problem that requires the search for modern approaches.

Objective of the research: determining the role of the pension system in the provision of the state's socio-economic security.

Tasks:

- to examine the stability of the national pension system as a factor of the state's socio-economic security;
- to identify the sphere of interaction between the pension system and the mechanism of the provision of the state's socio-economic security;
- to analyze the work of the PFA of the RF with Iraphsk district of the RNO-Alania;
- to analyze the mechanism of the provision of socio-economic security on the example of PFA of the RF with the RNO-Alania;

- to determine the ways of raising the financial stability of the pension fund of the RF in order to strengthen the state's socio-economic security;

- to work out the direction of the improvement of the performance of the PFA of the RF with Irphsk district of the RNO-Alania for strengthening the socio-economic security.

Theoretical and practical significance of the work. Theoretical significance of the work is that the ideas of the improvement of Russia's national pension system can be used by scientific and practical workers to determine the direction of the provision of socio-economic security. Practical significance of the research consists in the possibility of the application of the proposed recommendations in the work of the PFA of the RF with Irphsk district of the RNO-Alania to improve the mechanism of the provision of social-economic security and also in the work of similar organization of the Administrations' of the RF Pension Funds.

Results of the research: we 1) examined the stability of the national pension system as a factor of the state's socio-economic security; 2) determined the sphere of the mechanism of the pension system and the mechanisms of the provision of socio-economic security; 3) analyzed the performance of the PFA of the RF with Irphsk district of the RNO-Alania; 4) assessed the mechanism of the provision of socio-economic security used by the PFA of the RF with the Irphsk district of the RNO-Alania; 5) determined the ways of raising financial stability of Russia's pension fund with the purpose of strengthening the state's socio-economic stability; 6) worked out the ways of the improvement of the performance of the PFA of the RF with Irphsk district of the RNO-Alania to strengthen its socio-economic stability.

Recommendations:

I. at the federal level:

1) in the demographic sphere — the increase in birth rate through the prolongation of the operation of the maternity capital program and the increase in the life quality of the population;

2) in the social sphere: effective marketing policy of Russia's pension fund, aimed at the legalization of the work, earning and pension deductions; stimulation of the defaulters on the dues including that through the social nets; early retirement without the possibility of getting a huge pension;

3) in the financial sphere: development of the accumulative pension system on the basis of Singapore's experience; increase in financial efficiency of the accumulative part of pensions; development of the financial markets in the RF; increase in the pension age to 60 for women, so 65 – for men with the growth interval by 1 year per year; reduction in transfers of the Russia's pension fund from the federal budget;

II. at the territorial level:

1) in the RNO-Alania: increase in the average pension up to that of the middle class; support of the economic subjects with a single tariff at insurance payments; increase with effectiveness of the accumulative part of pensions; strengthening of the material-technical base of the organizations of social service of the population; increase in the living standards of the pensioners in the RNO-Alania;

2) in the PFA of the RF in the Iraphsk district of the RNO-Alania: increase in the quality and effectiveness of the realization of e-services, optimization of the interaction between the organs of the FTS of RF in the administering of insurance payments; launching a campaign to increase pension literacy of the inhabitants of different age groups in Iraphsk district.