

Summary

Subject matter: The principles of the organization of the french text in the sphere of personal correspondence

Author: Potapova Alevtina Michailovna

Supervisor of studies: Kotlyarevskaya Innessa Ur'evna

Information about customer organization: Chair of french philology and the intercultural communications

Topicality of the research: the linguistics became interested in epistolary texts. Letters became object of multidimensional studying. Much attention is paid to studying of specifics of business letters. Personal letters need more detailed research.

Objectives of the research: the French letters of personal character

Tasks of the research: to investigate concept of an epistolary genre; to consider history of emergence of an epistolary genre and to track stages of its development; to define concept of the personal letter; to carry out the structural-semantic analysis of available French letters of personal character

Theoretical and practical significance: to develop of the problem connected with form and content of the text of personal letters which is one of problems of the linguistic theory of the text in the communication sphere and possibility of use of the real work by drawing up reference or educational books in the sphere of personal correspondence, in particular, when developing recommendations about writing of letters of personal character in any occasion provided in the French culture (to a holiday or other event)

Results of the research: the received results allow to expand linguistic and professional competences of future experts in cross-cultural communication of a situation of informal communication with representatives of the French society

Recommendations: the results of the research can be recommended to translators and interpreters, to professors of French linguistics working at different types of educational and linguistic programmes