Subject matter: «Linguistics of Children Speech and Features of Its Translation»

Author: Shevchuk Snezhana Sergeeva, a 5-year student of Institute of Translation and Multilanguage.

Scientific Supervisor: candidate of philological sciences, docent of the Department of Western European Languages and Cultures Lebedeva M. B.

Information about the sponsor organization: Pyatigorsk State Linguistic University; 9 Kalinin St., Pyatigorsk, Stavropol Krai.

Topicality of the research: Linguistics of child language needs theoretical understanding. It is the analysis of children’s innovation which may help in study of the language potential.

Objective of the research: theoretical grounding of children speech within ontolinguistics and deviations of the language norm.

Tasks of the research: Consider the notion of the linguistic norm. Explore children’s speech as a kind of deviation from the linguistic norm.

Theoretical and practical significance of the research: systematization of approaches to the study of children’s speech and ways of its translation.

Results of the research: Translation of the child’s language requires special translator’s skills and talent. Any translator first needs to translate innovation on normative language then on recipient language.