Abstract

Subject matter of the graduate qualification work: “The Keys to Successful Intercultural Dialogue”

Author of the graduate qualification work: N.G. Kukushkina

Scientific supervisor of the graduate qualification work: N.V. Baryshnikov

Topicality of this research is determined by the fact it is devoted to the consideration of intercultural dialogue key elements aimed at the development in a specialist basic skills of successful interaction.

Objective: To determine the content and patterns of intercultural dialogue as an integral part of global processes that take place in the world, as well as to make clear some certain keys to successful interaction.

Tasks of the work: to analyze theoretical and methodological basis of intercultural dialogue; to analyze dialogue as a basis for intercultural communication and its peculiarities; to determine main characteristics of intercultural dialogue; to examine keys that contribute to successful intercultural dialogue and those that impede its successfullness; to determine and to examine problems and contradictions appearing in a professional intercultural dialogue, as well as to analyze ways to avoid them; to analyze main strategies of intercultural dialogue; to analyze components of intercultural dialogue; to present a hypothetical model of successful intercultural dialogue; to develop trainings of successful intercultural interaction.

Theoretical and practical significance of the work lies in attempts to create a hypothetical model of successful intercultural dialogue and ways to conduct it. Conclusions of this work and its results can serve as the basis for further study of intercultural dialogue and keys to its successfullness. The practical result of the work will be presented in application in a form of trainings of successful intercultural interaction. Collected material and information can be used not only by students but by everybody who is interested in it; it will help broaden your knowledge in the field of intercultural interaction and will also lessen the number of difficulties during intercultural contacts with representatives of other cultures.

Results of the research: The practical result of the work was presented in a form of trainings of successful intercultural interaction aimed at the development in a specialist skills of successful interaction.

Recommendations: Collected material and information can be used not only by students but by everybody who is interested in it; it will help broaden your knowledge in the field of intercultural interaction and will also lessen the number of difficulties during intercultural contacts with representatives of other cultures.