RESUME

Graduate Qualifying Thesis from:
Pyatigorsk State University
Institute of International Service, Tourism and Foreign Languages
Faculty of the English and Romance Languages
Chair of theoretical linguistics and practice of cross-cultural communication

Author: Kritskaya A.A.

Thesis supervisor: Assistant professor, Guyrdzhayn N.S.

Main parts: Contents, Introduction, two Chapters, Conclusion, Bibliography, List of Reference Books, Application.

Topic of the Graduate Qualifying Thesis: Idioms representing customs and traditions of the British.

Abstract: The object of the study is the English idiom which reflects customs and traditions of the English nation.

The subject of the study is the correlation between the English idioms and the English culture, specifically the particularities of English customs and traditions representation in idioms.

The aim of the study is to identify how culture of the English nation, its customs and traditions are represented in the English language, to prove the importance of this phenomenon.

The practical value is determined by the fact that the results of the study can be used for educational purposes as well as for profound theoretical and practical researches in linguistics, culturology, history and ethnography. Moreover glossography and compilation of ethnolinguistic dictionaries can be based on the study.