Abstract: The topic of our research is influence of the English youth slang on formation of the Russian youth subculture. Object of research is the youth slang of the end of XX - the beginning of the 21st centuries as one of not codified forms of existence of modern Russian and English languages. The purpose of work is the complex description of youth slang as one of subsystems of modern Russian and English languages and his influence on formation and development of the Russian youth subculture.
Theoretical component is that in work are in detail considered the place of a modern youth slang, a modern Russian slang and its differences from units of other subsystems of research of languages, and also specifics of slengizm in speeches and their influence on formation of the Russian subculture are revealed. The practical value of the thesis is that, the slang is not the literary language, it arises and is used in oral speech. As a result of research it has been also proved that the slang of the Russian youth has a big variety of shades and many words are unclear for bulk of the population.
