Abstract

Graduation Level of Proficiency Paper
Bachelors’s degree

Title: Methodical aspects of preparation for English language USE

Author: Eremenko V.O.

Research Supervisor: associate professor Tatiana Yarmina

Research Initiator: Institute of Foreign Languages and International Tourism

Topical Importance: The existing forecast about assigning the status of a mandatory state examination to a foreign language, as well as updating the methodological base with new exercises, training methods.

Goal: Analysis of the structural part of the USE and creation of the set of exercises to prepare for the USE.

Tasks: to study the normative documents containing the requirements for passing USE; to identify specific features and problems that arise when passing the USE; to study available methodical literature on the problem of controlling/checking speaking, reading, grammar and writing skills; to develop a methodical complex of exercises for the preparation for the USE in English.

Theoretical value: Analysis, collection and synthesis of information allowed to consider this problem more deeply, and the ways to solve the identified problems when passing the USE have been found.

Practical applicability: The set of exercises for the preparation for the USE in English can be used in the process of preparing for the USE.

Results: thorough analysis of factual material the factual material based on the latest research results in the field of theory and methodology of teaching foreign languages and preparation for the USE in English and justifies the necessity to develop the ways to solve the problems.

Implementation advice: the study can be useful for school teachers of foreign languages to work out new lead-up to methods and means of teaching.