Тема: СТРУКТУРНЫЕ И СЕМАНТИЧЕСКИЕ ХАРАКТЕРИСТИКИ СКАЗУЕМОГО В СОВРЕМЕННОМ АНГЛИЙСКОМ ЯЗЫКЕ

ABSTRACT

Subjectmatter: Structural and Semantic Characteristics of Predicate in Modern English Language.

Author: Khadishat V. Gandaloeva, 5th year student, Institute of Translatology and Multilanguage Studies.

Supervisor of the project: V.G. Loktionova, Professor of the Chair of Theory and Practice of Translation and Interpretation.

Information about the sponsor organization: Pyatigorsk State Linguistic University; 9 Kalinin St., Pyatigorsk, Stavropolkrai.

Topical importance of the paper. The paper deals with a vital for modern linguistics but still inadequately investigated problem of the grammatical predicate. It presents an integral picture of the structural types of predicates, their semantic classifications and certain peculiarities of their syntactic functions. And a discussion of the difference of their meanings.

Goals. The principal goal is to achieve new important information about the structural and semantic features relevant both for the theoretical interpretation of the linguistic facts and the influence of the extralinguistic factor of differentiation influencing the practice of communication and translation from English into Russian and from Russian into English.

The tasks achieved. 1. Characterization of the numerous structural land semantic approaches to the study of the predicate in English. 2. Classification of the empirical material in accordance with the structure, form, functions and meaning of the various types of predicates in Modern English.

Theoretical value and practical applicability. The research is based on the interdisciplinary approach enabling to represent the object of research as an active process creating communicative units of various structural types and influencing... the general system of modern English. The data presented are applicable in Grammar, Lexicology, Sociolinguistics and in the Theory and practice of translation.

Results. The scientifically grounded integral description of the object under study including its extralinguistic basis, the derivational analysis, lexical-semantic interpretation and functional peculiarities are presented.

Implementation advice. The general conclusions and acquired results can be used in the teaching process as an aid for the students of the Institute of Translation and Interpretation.
